Your Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy Guide

Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy

Everything you need to know about HBOT — how it works, what a session is like, and what to expect.

Pressure: 2.0 ATA

Session: 60 minutes

THE BASICS

What Is HBOT?

You relax in a pressurized chamber while breathing pure oxygen at 2.0 ATA (atmospheres absolute). Under pressure, oxygen dissolves into your blood plasma at much higher concentrations than normal breathing.

This oxygen-rich blood reaches tissues that need it most — supporting recovery, reducing inflammation, and promoting cellular repair throughout your entire body.

INSTRUCTIONS

What to Know Before Your Session

1. Wear Comfortable Clothing

   Loose-fitting clothing works best. No metal jewelry in the chamber.

2. Equalize Ear Pressure

   As the chamber pressurizes, equalize your ears as you would on an airplane — swallow, yawn, or pinch your nose and gently blow.

3. Relax for 60 Minutes

   Read, listen to music, or sleep. The session is 60 minutes at pressure. Many patients find it deeply relaxing.

4

Hydrate Before and After

Good hydration supports oxygen circulation and recovery. Drink plenty of water before and after your session.

TIMELINE

What to Expect

Benefits build with consistent sessions.

First Session

Some notice improved energy and clarity. Mild ear pressure is normal and resolves quickly.

Sessions 5–10

Cumulative benefits — reduced inflammation, improved recovery, better sleep quality.

Sessions 10–20+

Deeper tissue healing, sustained energy, cognitive improvements. This is where the compounding effect really shows.

SAFETY
